Victor Hugo: Poet, novelist and dramatist of the 19th century was the most important of the French Romantic writers. Though regarded in France as one of the country's greatest poets, he is better known for novels as Notre-Dame de Paris(1831) and Les Miserables (1862).

Torulata Dutt: A Bengali poet, also known as Toru, wrote in English and French, was born on 4th March 1856 in Kolkata. She is considered to be the first Indian poetess to write verses in English and French. She translated dozens of poems and completed a novel before her death at the age of 21. Her poems such as 'Seeta', 'Lotus' and 'Our Casuarina Tree' are well-loved.

'The Sower' is a translation of Victor Hugo's poem, Saison des Semailles: Le Soir. It is translated by Toru Dutt from French to English. 'The Sower' is a poem about a farmer who is sowing seeds. He has seen many bad harvests in his life. However he is optimistic of having a good harvest every time he tosses grain.

porchway - a veranda or a covered shelter in front of a building

Twilight hastens on to rule.

Explain in your own words.

well-nigh - almost but not completely or exactly, just about

sower - the person who plants the seeds lingers - hangs around, remains silhouette - shape, outline of someone against a brighter background

furrows - line, trench, channel

The word 'Marches' suggests...

muse - rest in thought, reflect stride - walk with long steps

august - noble, dignified, impressive

The Sower

Sitting in a porchway cool,
 Sunlight, I see, dying fast,
 Twilight hastens on to rule.
 Working hours have well-nigh past.
 Shadows run across the lands:
 But a sower lingers still,
 Old, in rags, he patient stands.
 Looking on, I feel a thrill.
 Black and high, his silhouette
 Dominates the furrows deep!
 Now to sow the task is set.
 Soon shall come a time to reap.
 Marches he along the plain
 To and fro, and scatters wide
 From his hands the precious grain;
Muse I, as I see him stride.
 Darkness deepens. Fades the light.
 Now his gestures to mine eyes
 Are august; and strange; his height
 Seems to touch the starry skies.
