

Singular and Plural واحد و جمع

In Persian, rules for forming plurals of singular nouns are as follows:

(a) When the noun is animate, نا is added to it to make plural, such as :

(b) When the noun is inanimte, La is added to it to make plural, such as:

However in modern Persian, ان both are used for some animate nouns, such as:

(c) If the singular word ends in \(\)(alif) then يان is added to make it plural.

(d) If the noun ends with the letter ه (hidden He) 'ه' is replaced by گان to make it plural.

The Arabic words used in Persian are governed by Persian rules in making them plural, such as : منزل ها (Arabic plural is منزل ها)

(e) If the noun or a composite word acting as noun ends in و (wao), يان is added to it to make plural, such as:

Make plurals of the following words:
