PLEDGE

India is my country. All Indians are my brothers and sisters.

I love my country, and I am proud of its rich and varied heritage. I shall always strive to be worthy of it.

I shall give my parents, teachers and all elders respect, and treat everyone with courtesy.

To my country and my people, I pledge my devotion. In their well-being and prosperity alone lies my happiness.

Preface

The Right of Children to Free and Compulsory Education Act, 2009 and National Curriculum Framework 2005 are two of the most important events that have influenced the field of primary education in the country. In the State of Maharashtra, too, primary education curriculum was revised to reflect their guidelines and expectations. We are happy to place this English Balbharati for Standard Three based on 'Primary Education Curriculum 2012' in your hands.

The RTE Act emphasizes all round development of the child, as also learning through activities, discovery and exploration in a child-friendly and child-centred manner; making the child free of fear, trauma and anxiety and helping the child to express views freely. We have tried to design our textbooks so that these principles become a part of the teaching-learning process.

Language plays a very important role at the primary level as other subjects, too, are learnt through language. A child learns language from all sources - in school, at home and from his/her environment. Teaching and learning of languages in school is designed to provide a series of graded activities in a suitable environment with a view to developing the child's language skills and sensibilities to their full potential. The curriculum expects a balanced development of all the four skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing in the proper sequence. The emphasis in the initial years is on developing the child's confidence and expression.

This textbook presents a number of activities in a particular sequence which will allow the child to learn language actively and in an enjoyable manner. Some important suggestions have been given for teachers and interested parents to help them motivate and guide the children while learning English. Teachers should handle the various items given in this book within the framework provided by the instructions.

The English Language Committee and the artist have taken great pains to prepare this textbook. It was reviewed by teachers and experts and their comments and suggestions have helped us to give it a better shape. The Bureau is grateful to all of them.

We hope that the textbook will receive a warm welcome from students, parents and teachers.

For Teachers

Before you take up the textbook in the classroom -

- # Go through the entire book to get an overall idea of the contents.
- # All passages and activities are important. Don't 'drop' any of them.
- When you plan your year's work, note the activities which can be used again and again (A String Song, A Skit, etc.), and those which have to be done over a period of time (Festival Album). Keep enough time for them in your teaching plans. Some of them can be used as projects. See 'Things to do' number 5 on page 12, Festival Album on pages 42-43, 'Things to do' number 7 on page 50 and 'Design your own Robot!' on page 68.
- Every passage is followed by 'Things to do' which involve a variety of activities and exercises. Note that many of the activities and question types can be repeated with other passages. Use them to design additional interesting exercises.

For Teachers / Parents

Create an atmosphere that facilitates language learning -

-  At this stage, oral work is in fact, more important than written work. Get the students to do a lot of oral work.
- He Let the students speak and write a lot. Do not focus on accuracy all the time.
- Many activities in the book require group work. Train the students to form groups quickly. They should get used to working with their friends without creating problems of discipline.
- See that every student gets many opportunities to use his/her imagination. Make maximum use of the exercises and activities given here for this purpose.
- Bo not expect or encourage stereotyped or uniform responses. Accept and appreciate originality in students' work.
- Encourage students to present their work in front of the class (or guests). Display their written work regularly and provide many opportunities for presenting monologues, speeches and recitations.
- Encourage students to collect jokes, riddles, puzzles and other interesting material.
- Het each child keep a colourful pictorial file of his writings and other work done during the year. Allow children to display the files from time to time.
