The Sun and the Wind were friends. But the Wind was naughty.

He blew and he tossed and he rushed through trees and gardens and houses.

He scattered things here and there.

He teased the Sun,

"See what I can do. I am stronger than you."

"I don't think so," said the Sun.

"Yes, I am!"

"No, you are not."

"Yes, I say, yes!" said the Wind,

"Look at the man on the farm.

There's a blanket around his shoulders.

I will make him throw it away."

"Let us see," said the Sun.

Then the Wind started blowing.

He blew and blew.

But the man did not throw the blanket away.

"It is so windy," said the man, and wrapped the blanket tight around his shoulders.

The Sun smiled and said to the Wind,

"Now watch this."

Then the Sun began to get hot.

He became very very hot.

"Ugh!" said the man, "Now it's too hot!"

He took the blanket off and threw it in a corner.

Who is stronger –

the Sun or the Wind?
